

ER MODEL IN DBMS

Extended ER features

Aggregation

Aggregation is like stacking things on top of each other to create a structure. It is used to create a hierarchical structure in data modeling, showing how a higher-level entity is composed of lower-level entities.

Abstraction is employed to view relationships from a more general perspective, focusing on a higher-level entity.

ER MODEL IN DBMS

Extended ER features

Aggregation

⇒

